

JENKINS IS RELEASED FROM MEXICAN CUSTODY

City Is Placed On Short Hour Basis

LOCAL COAL BOARD TAKES STEPS TO SAFEGUARD SUPPLY OF FUEL; STORES TO BE OPEN FROM 9 TO 6

Display Signs Turned Off; Sullivan Named Administrator; Allotments Will Be Rationed; Federal Orders Are Observed.

Janesville officially took recognition of the coal situation last night when Mayor Welsh, at the suggestion of his coal board appointed W. B. Sullivan, city sealer, local fuel administrator. He will have full powers to enforce the government's orders in regard to coal restrictions. Mr. Sullivan accepted the appointment last night and assumed his duties this morning.

Other steps to safeguard the city's fuel supply were taken by the coal board at the meeting held in Mayor Welsh's office. It was decided that beginning Monday, all business places except butcher shops, groceries, bakeries, restaurants, and drug stores will open at 9 o'clock in the morning and close at 6 o'clock in the evening except Saturdays on all days until Christmas week when the ban will be lifted for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday when hours will not be limited.

The board decided that pool rooms, bowling alleys, saloons, cigar stores, and theatres could only keep open in a single day except on Saturdays.

Display Signs Shut Off. Immediate prohibition of the use of advertising and display signs was ordered. Window lights in stores were ordered darkened at 6 o'clock each evening except on Saturdays.

All those who owned coal from the city board were given a slip indicating that their supplies are not sufficient to keep them warm. These slips will be turned over to the fuel administrator at the coal board. The board also decided that homes having furnaces, not more than two to a family, and baseburners, not more than one to a family, could have a delivery. It was decided that coal could not be delivered to a dealer who could mix it with range or pea coal.

The fuel administrator in addition to the regulations put into force by the board last night will see that the following government regulations are strictly enforced:

Mayor Welsh in suggesting that a fuel administrator be appointed declared he realized the seriousness of the fuel situation. He declared that he had received numerous calls yesterday from people who said they were out of coal. He declared that he would pay for the delivery of a ton of coal for the week. Six aldermen present agreed with the mayor.

The board also decided that the hours of business places be shortened to one hour after 6 o'clock. It was pointed out that every effort should be made to conserve every pound of coal and that by opening stores an hour later and regulating the hours of places of amusement, much fuel could be saved. That portion of the order relating to pool halls, bowling alleys, theatres, cigar stores, and saloons was thoroughly explained by the board and the determination to allow proprietors of such businesses to choose the hours they would operate was reached when it was explained that most of such businesses were transacted late in the afternoon and at 6 o'clock in the afternoon and not run until 11 o'clock at night and not a hardship upon proprietors who were out.

Do Christmas Shopping Early. The retail merchants will be allowed to keep their places open the three days immediately before Christmas but it was suggested by the board that the government and local sealers already in the city should distribute this fuel would be through the delivery service and not by the public. The board will meet again with the mayor and fuel administrator on call.

Judge Grimm Dismisses $10,000 Slander Suit; Stipulation is Accepted

JOHN KENNEDY, POLICE COMMISSIONER, DOES NOT ADMIT MAKING STATEMENTS DEROGATORY TO BRIGGS' CHARACTER; SAYS ANY REMARKS MADE CONCERNING FORMER POLICEMAN WERE IN INTEREST OF "GOOD GOVERNMENT."

The $10,000 slander suit brought by Daniel W. Briggs, former member of the local police force, against John Kennedy, police commissioner, was dismissed by Judge Grimm of the circuit court this morning.

Judge Grimm explained that he had been able to get the parties to the suit to agree upon the dismissal of the action. He said the disposal of the case in this manner would save taxpayers several hundred dollars, although it would deprive the public of the opportunity of hearing evidence in what appeared to be an interesting controversy.

Following are the minutes of the case set down at the direction of Judge Grimm:

It is stipulated and agreed in open court by and between the parties hereto, that the issues in this action be settled and said action dismissed without costs, with reference to the following admission made by the defendant with reference to the plaintiff's character:

"I have made any statements derogatory to plaintiff's character, but whatever statements I may have made with reference to the plaintiff which are claimed to reflect upon the character or good name of the plaintiff were based upon information which at the time I believed to be true and were made in the interest of good government. I do not understand the plaintiff's contention of such information, but merely assert I believe it to be true."

Upon the foregoing stipulation court orders the action dismissed.

Briggs asked $10,000 damages from Kennedy, alleging the latter had slandered him. The alleged slanders were supposed to have been made about the time five policemen resigned from the force after telling Harry Kowalski, president of the police board, that they would not continue on duty unless Kennedy resigned. The men who resigned were: Tim Mulachy, announced he had been promoted to the place of chief. He has been able to reorganize the force and has accomplished a great deal of work.

Public Was Aroused

The public was stirred up over the conditions in the police department because at that time Camp Grant was discharging thousands of soldiers every day and a large number of these soldiers were coming to this city to take trains for other parts of the state. The saloons were running at that time and with the influx of soldiers the situation was very serious. After the five men had resigned from the force, Acting Chief Gower resigned. Tim Mulachy, announced he had been promoted to the place of chief. He has been able to reorganize the force and has accomplished a great deal of work.

GOUGING?

One of the school teachers who will receive $200 a year increase in salary reported to E. J. Hooper, president of the board of education, that the woman from whom he rents a room told the teacher that now she would have to pay $150 a week more for her room. That means practically $60 a year increase in expenses.

The taxpayers have to stand for the increase in teachers' salaries and if the renters of rooms are going to tilt the price as soon as the school board provides enough money for the teachers to live decently it is difficult to determine what the end will be.

STATE DEPARTMENT IS TOLD OF AGENT'S LEAVE OF PRISON

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE AS FALL AND HITCHCOCK GO TO CONSULT WILSON.

FREED LAST NIGHT

Consul Abducted Oct. 19, Arrested Nov. 15, Returns Home.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Dec. 5.—The American embassy at Mexico City notified the state department today that American Consul Agent William O. Jenkins had been released from custody.

It was announced at the state department that the advice from the embassy said Jenkins had been liberated from the penitentiary where he had been held pending trial on charges of giving false information regarding his abduction by Mexican bandits in October.

The embassy's dispatch reached the state department coincident with the arrival at the White House of the fall of the law of the state department. The state department is now in a position to discuss with the president pending resolutions proposing that the state department should have diplomatic relations with the Carranza government.

Hanna Confirms Release.

The secretary of state announced that a dispatch from the embassy stated that Third Secretary Hanna had reported that Jenkins was released from the penitentiary last night.

Jenkins was abducted October 19, and the American embassy was immediately instructed to take all possible measures to affect his release from the bandits who had taken him. Jenkins was released on ransom, returning to Puebla, October 25, was taken to a hospital on that date. Jenkins was released on November 15 by the Mexican authorities and taken into custody.

Tension Is Relieved.

While the release of Jenkins eased the tension in the Mexican situation, officials here explained that the Jenkins case was only an incident in the charges of Senator Fall that the Mexican ambassador and consuls in the United States have conspired to prevent intervention in Mexico is opposed by Jenkins, who in a letter received today by Representatives Hanna and Wilson, said it was possible to solve the Mexican problem without actual intervention.

News of Jenkins' release was communicated to the House by the state department while the president was conferring with Senators Hitchcock and Fall. The release of Jenkins was directly to the president and his visitors.

Wilson Receives Advice.

President Wilson today announced that he had received information from the Mexican situation until he could examine evidence submitted by Senator Fall, New Mexico, on which the senator based his charges that the Mexican ambassador and consuls in the United States have conspired to prevent intervention in Mexico is opposed by Jenkins, who in a letter received today by Representatives Hanna and Wilson, said it was possible to solve the Mexican problem without actual intervention.

While the president did not say directly that he would communicate with congress and the Mexican situation, the senators gained the impression that he would have some advice to give before the senate foreign relations committee meets Monday.

Senators Fall and Hitchcock conferred with the president for nearly an hour.

The president asked Senator Fall to prepare for him a memorandum covering some of the disclosures before the senate committee investigating the Mexican situation. Mr. Fall is chairman and Senator Fall agreed to do this at once.

It's All Wrong!

(By Associated Press.)

Madison, Dec. 5.—Pipes down. It was all wrong. The Badger navy has been postponed. Gullible gobs who packed their seabags Tuesday night, ready for active orders to "stand by" for active duty within 10 days, unpacked and unwrapped themselves again yesterday.

When Wisconsin naval reserve students met yesterday noon at the Y. M. C. A. it was impossible to find any who had received the "stand-by" order, or who had been responsible for the hoax, which included the packing of the navy. Information to one navy man, purporting to be a message received at a telegraph office here, ordering him to prepare for active duty on short notice. Rumors of similar messages had made other sea service men present themselves back in the navy within a few days.

What Makes a Bullet Go
By Grant M. Hyde
"What makes the bullet go when you shoot your rifle, Dad?"
"Gunpowder."

"But you didn't put any gunpowder into the rifle?"
"Yes, I put in gunpowder, just like grandfather used to put in his old muzzle-loader. And it had to be rammed down, with a wad and a bullet on top of it, and then set on fire, just like his rifle did. But I did not have to do the loading and ramming myself because I was able to load my rifle with a cartridge—which is simply an easy way to put into a rifle another barrel in which the loading has already been done at a factory."
"If the first guns, the men who used the gun first poured in some powder, through the muzzle, then a wad, then a bullet, it would be a lot of trouble. To fire it he had to set fire to the powder. Some early guns used fuses, or matches. Then they invented flintlocks in which a piece of flint struck a spark from steel to set fire to the powder. Then they invented percussion caps made of a substance, like the head of a match, which would catch fire when struck."
"Finally some one thought of cartridges—a little brass cylinder in which the powder, wad, and bullet could be placed and rammed in advance. To explode the powder, he placed a percussion cap in the rear end of the cartridge so that you could strike it with the gun hammer. And so, to fire my rifle, I simply slip ready-made cartridge into the barrel and, when I pull the trigger, the rifle hammer drives a firing pin into the soft metal covering of a mouth cap. The cartridge, or shell, is held in the gun by a little rim. A shotgun cartridge is loaded and fired in the same way except that the cartridge is filled with small shot held in by a wad."

Boy's Workshop Before Christmas

By J. H. Miller
"Bobby, what under the sun are you doing down in the cellar all the time?" asked Bob's mother about a week before Christmas. "It seems to me there hasn't been an evening or a Saturday for about a month that I haven't heard you sawing and hammering down there."

"There hasn't been, Mother. I've been there all the time. I'm making things to sell for Christmas presents. Come down and I'll show you."

So Bob's mother went with him down to his Christmas workshop. "This hobbles," said he, "I figure on selling to Mr. Collins. Jimmy told me some time ago that he thought his father was going to give him a bob for Christmas, so I saw Mr. Collins about it, and he said that, if I could make a good one, he would buy it. This one is better than any I can find down town. Got the idea from Mr. Hyde's article on 'How to Make a Bobble'."

"Then, here is an indoor flower box that Chuck Moore is going to buy for a present to his mother. She has been wanting one for a long time. Got that idea out of one of Mr. Hyde's articles, too. Here is a plant stand I intend to sell to Annabelle Brown to give to her mother. I got the idea for it from Mr. Hall's book on 'Handicraft for Handy Boys'."

"These picture frames I haven't sold yet. Cousin Dick is going to give this umbrella stand to Aunt Kate. It's a pipkin if I do say it myself. And this cedar chest I'm going to try to make Dad buy to give some one."

"My! I've been wanting one like that for a long time," said Mother. "Next year," Bob went on, "I'll start earlier. I'm going to try a fireless cooker. It doesn't look so terribly hard. Then there are a lot of other things I can make such as clock shelves, rattle racks, towel racks, book racks, towel rollers, magazine racks, and a dozen other things."

"You will certainly make some money, Bobby."

"Sure, and you ought to see the presents I have stored away for you and Dad. You'll be tickled to death."

TEACHERS THANK BOARD FOR RAISE

City school teachers at a meeting Thursday afternoon adopted a resolution thanking the board of education for making an increase of $200 per year on their salaries. They declared in the resolution that they have not received from their position that a $300 increase is just despite criticism. They expressed the opinion that if funds were available, the larger amount would have been granted by the board.

The teachers declared that a statement in the Gazette saying $100 had been added to their salaries since contracts were signed was incorrect. J. T. Hooper, president of the school board, this morning declared that most of the teachers had been given $200 and some $50 more this year than last, the increased pay beginning when the school term started. At any rate, the Gazette finds teachers received $100 more in September when school started than they did last summer when the school year was granted before contracts were signed or after, makes little difference, Mr. Hooper said.

Berkman and Goldman
Leave Mainland of U. S.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Dec. 5.—Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman, his companion in 30 years of anarchistic activities, were sent from the mainland of the United States today, probably never to return.

Ordered deported for urging overthrow of the government by violence, they were taken to Ellis Island, where they will be held until a ship is available to send them to Russia, whence they came.

Emma Goldman, claiming to be a citizen by an early marriage, will make a last legal effort to remain on this ground and Berkman also will seek a writ of habeas corpus on the claim that this country's right of free speech permitted him to urge his anarchistic ideas.

Warm as an Arctic— washes off like a Boot

The new "U. S." Walrus, which is fast becoming popular among farmers everywhere

FOR years farmers have needed a high rubber overshoe—easy to put on and take off—warm and comfortable—one that could be easily cleaned of the dirt of the barnyard.

There's an overshoe like that ready for you this winter. With an all-rubber surface—

"U.S." Arctics—Made of snow-tight cashmere, warm and comfortable. Reinforced where the wear is hardest. In one, two, four and six buckles, all weights and sizes.

snow-tight and water-tight—lined with thick, soft fleece—the new U. S. Walrus is just the thing you've been looking for.

It slips right on over your leather shoe. You can trudge through mud and wet all day, and then at your doorstep—swish!—a pail of water washes the U. S. Walrus as clean as before you started. A moment to unbuckle them and leave them at the door, and you enter the house as clean and dry, shod as you left it.

Think of having an overshoe that keeps your feet warm as an arctic does—dry as a boot will—in the coldest, wettest weather! In every way, the new U. S. Walrus is the farmers' ideal overshoe.

At exactly the places where overshoes usually wear out first, the U. S. Walrus has been made strongest. Its sole consists of heavy layers of the finest rubber. Every point of strain is specially reinforced.

Ask your dealer to-day to show you a pair of the new U. S. Walrus.

Other "U.S." models—all built for the hardest wear

Whether you prefer a boot or a bootie for the wet season, a "rubber" for general use, or a cloth-top arctic—you can find in U. S. rubber footwear exactly what you need. Tough, heavy soles—special reinforcements at toe and heel—and always the highest "U.S." boots are made in all sizes and styles: Short, Storm King, Sporting and Hip. In red, black, and white.

"AND NOW LET US GO TO WORK."

Bremier Georges Clemenceau, writing in reference to the recent election in France and its results, said: "And now let us go to work."

While the advice is of value in France and may have been intended to apply to the rehabilitation of that nation, it is not less applicable to America. In few words he gives a remedy for most of the ills of which we have been complaining and it is a prescription that is easy to carry out, if there is a sincere desire for recovery from the state of bickering and grouching with which a considerable portion of the proclamation has been afflicted.

If there is more work, there will be less time for oratory, and with less talking there will be more time for thinking, and with more thought the necessity for more work will be apparent. The high cost of living will remain to perplex unless workers enter into the production of those things necessary to life.

Laws cannot produce wheat. Somebody must plow and sow and reap and thresh. Higher wages for less work will not solve the problem if there is not production to supply the demand. If there were as much enthusiasm in getting to work as there is in trying to avoid work our difficulties would soon disappear.

All this is self-evident and acknowledged, yet too many are of the opinion that the necessity to work with all the energy they possess does not apply to themselves, but to the other fellows. All through the ages there has been effort to discover some recipe for obtaining a livelihood without giving food, hard, honest work in exchange for it, but all such searchers have failed.

"In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread" still stands as law, and all efforts to circumvent it will prove fruitless. If we are to have, we must produce, and work is essential to production. Clemenceau voiced no new principle, but he did call timely attention to the only remedy that will get us out of our troubles, if it is applied in a sane and efficient manner.

WHAT "PANTS" DID HE WEAR?

Previous to the visit of President Poincare of France to King George the perplexity of the head of the French republic over what kind of "pants," whether white or black, he should wear in the presence of the British monarch was regarded by the Paris newsmongers as of sufficient importance to cable to this country. The gravity of the decision as bearing on the comity that should attend such a meeting was dwelt on, as well as the inability of President Poincare's advisers to solve the problem.

The sartorial adornment of the nether extremities, to an American, might seem a trivial matter so long as they were decently covered, but in Europe they stress customs that in our crudity we pass up as unimportant, hence the necessity to settle the "pants" problem in the only way permissible, and that the right way. If the distinguished Frenchman were to wear black when he should wear white it is possible that King George would be so shocked that he would forget that there was a time not so long since when neither Englishman nor Frenchman was judged by the "pants" he wore, but by his ability to fight in a common cause.

As far as we recall, the kind of "pants" President Wilson wore when he visited King George did not enter into the news either before or after the event, but that may have been due to the fact that American correspondents did not appreciate the value of correct color in the presence of a king. However, it is probable Mr. Wilson did not violate grossly the customs and traditions on the subject of "pants" or it would have leaked out.

Though President Poincare has made his visit and returned to his capital, so far as we have been able to ascertain no information, breathlessly awaited, as to the color of "pants" he wore has been vouchsafed. With our curiosity whetted by the perplexity that weighed on the Parisian adherents to the desire for correct adornment for legs, are we to remain in ignorance as to how the problem was solved?

It is probable he wore the right ones, but which? Is this to remain one of the unanswered queries like "who struck Billy Patterson?" and "how old is Ann?"

WHO IS PAMPERING THE REDS?

There is a steadily growing impression about that someone in the department of labor at Washington is too tender with the alien Reds sent to Ellis Island for deportation. Someone is saying to himself: "How awful to send these poor fellows to Russia!" forgetting perhaps the fervor with which these revolutionists have been praising Russia's soviet government. And this sympathetic someone (how we wish we knew his name!) is giving orders that have turned loose in New York hundreds of these firebrands, to work and preach as they pleased. Out of hundreds handed over to the immigration officers for deportation only a dozen have been sent away.

What consideration do we owe these men, who would destroy our institutions by violence, and who look forward to the day when they think they can kill and burn? The distress of a female anarchist in behalf of a prisoner held for deportation during the war, as expressed in a letter to "My Dear Fred Howe," commissioner at Ellis Island, was almost comic. She implored that this piece of scum be not returned to France, because, if he were, he would be put in the army, and that would mean sure death!

These Reds are a brave lot! They shiver with dread

JUST FOLKS

Edgar A. Guest

THE REASON MANY FAIL.

I used to wonder why it was so few were at the top; Why some men got so far ahead while all the others stop.

But that was in the olden days when I was but a lad; I understand it now because experience I've had.

I went into a corner store to spend my hard-earned pelf. The man who owns the little place was standing there himself.

But he was talking politics or something with a friend. And hadn't time to take the cash which I had come to spend.

I fumbled with my pocketbook, I tried to catch his eye. I tried a dozen ways or more to show I'd come to buy.

At last I asked him kindly if he cared to wait on me. And found how truly insolent a foolish man can be.

I do not wonder any more why few men reach the top. I've found the answer many times in many a store and shop.

A lot of men start out in life with hope and prospects bright. But just a few discover that it pays to be polite.

and horror at thought of going into an army to fight for right and justice. The very sight of bloodshed sickens, so devoted are they to the gentle principles of the brotherhood of man.

But give them the upper hand for a time, as in Russia, or show them a chance to shoot unoffending war veterans from ambush, as in Centralia, and they are the most cruel and unmerciful of killers.

They are a bad lot. We don't want to hurt them, and we do not wish them any bad luck, but we would like to see them all packed off to Russia, or wherever else they came from, in the shortest possible time.

As for American officials who would shield and pamper them, the punishment should be made to fit the crime. They ought to be compelled to go to Russia, too.

The two representatives who attended all the sessions of the house will doubtless come in for a lot of praise. But nothing less than a medal of honor would fittingly reward a senator who could endure such continuous exposure.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Dec. 5, 1879.—Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Kenyon were happily surprised last night by about forty of their friends. Arrangements are to be made, by which David K. BURLESON REPORTS SURPLUS IN ANNUAL POSTOFFICE BALANCE

[By Associated Press.]
Washington, Dec. 4.—A surplus of $2,342,551 in postoffice operations for the fiscal year 1919 was announced in the annual report today of Postmaster General Burleson. The figures are subject to some adjustment, which would increase the surplus, Mr. Burleson said, adding that this was the sixth year in which the present postoffice administration that revenues had exceeded expenditures.

An aggregate surplus of more than $35,000,000 as compared to an aggregate deficit of more than $69,000,000 for the preceding seven year period is shown in an appended table.

Much of the criticism leveled at the department's financial policy, Mr. Burleson said, was due to a lack of complete and accurate information.

No Apologies Made.
"The facts, as presented," he added, "tell a story of achievement. They do not call for explanations or apologies and none are given. The administration stands squarely on its feet."

Discussing improvements in the service, Mr. Burleson said nothing had been left undone within his authority to effect readjustments in the interests of all the people and not in that of any special class, adding:

"Because of the curtailment of what may be termed 'special class' postal facilities there has grown up strenuous hostility upon the part of a limited number of special interests, the expense of whose private business was largely paid by the government. In the future, the department has particular reference to the modifying of the second-class mailing privilege which had until the advent of the present administration been grossly abused."

Improvements Made Are Summarized as follows:

"Inauguration of the air-mail service; establishment of the 'space system' in determining the compensation of railroads for carrying the mail; readjustment of railway mail service in the interest of both improvement and economy; readjustment of organization of postoffices, methods of service, and distribution of supplies, on a basis of sound business principles; inauguration of rural delivery service; extension of box and collection service and postage stamps; money-order and registry facilities to persons at all states; improvements in the registry system, insured parcel post, and methods of handling dead letters; readjustment of rural delivery service; provision of more equitable distribution of facilities to patrons already served and extensions and facilities to those who have not been served; the denial of any service at all; complete reorganization of the equipment and supply services through the extension of operation of parcel post; the partial adjustment of the postal rates on second class matter, effecting a saving of over $15,000,000 annually; reduction of letter postage between the United States and several foreign countries; large extension of international parcel post, and the increase in weight and size of parcels permitted in the mails."

Mr. Burleson again asked repeal of legislation permitting the organization of postal employees with labor organizations, "which sanction recourse to the strike or boycott to enforce their demands."

WINTER GARBAGE PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Weekly collections of dry garbage will be made in the city throughout the winter, according to the program drawn up today by Street Commissioner Thomas McKune. Collection of the refuse began today. In order to expedite the new methods of collection, Mr. McKune asks that all who desire to take advantage of the plan notify City Clerk F. McCue. The names will be listed by him and turned over to the street commissioner so that definite routes can be established.

Beloit Plumber Given $175 Verdict in Circuit Court

Did Arthur C. James, plumber of Beloit, resist arrest and fight three policemen Oct. 18, 1918, at the station house at Beloit. Or was he struck without cause by Police Captain Sutherland and Policemen Torrisi? Was he intoxicated at the time? Answers to these questions were given last Wednesday afternoon when the jury, after being out for several hours, returned a verdict of $175 for James in the circuit court. Charges of assault and battery against Officers Torrisi, Sutherland and Lovelace of the Beloit police force.

RIVER JORDAN TO BE TAPPED TO GIVE POWER TO PALESTINE

Christiania.—(By Mail).—A Norwegian engineer has devised a plan to provide water and electric power for Palestine at an initial cost of $40,000,000. Albert Agnar, of the city proposes to utilize the variation of the level between the Mediterranean and the Dead sea and, by means of a tunnel for water, to provide electric power to be used for pumping stations, irrigation and general purposes.

Mr. Hjorth proposes to dig a tunnel 32 miles long, from the Mediterranean to the Dead sea, passing under Jerusalem. This tunnel would carry water from the Mediterranean to the western slopes of the lower end of the Jordan valley. Thence the water would pass through pipes down to the Dead sea, where a power plant would transform the water power into electricity, to be distributed as light and power through the country. This power would be used to drive a pumping station at the southern end of the Sea of Galilee (Lake Gennesaret).

Mr. Hjorth's plans have met with great sympathy among leading scientific authorities and practical engineers in Norway. It is proposed to send out a Norwegian technical expedition which, with the anticipated support of the governments of the great powers interested, will proceed to Palestine at an early date.

If the matter reaches such a stage that the realization of this great project is seriously being contemplated, the resources of Norway will not suffice alone, but the aid of international capital will be invited.

ROPER GIVES REPORT OF ANNUAL YIELD OF REVENUE LAW

[By Associated Press.]
Washington, Dec. 5.—Estimates of $6,000,000 as the yield of the present revenue law for the first 12 months of its operation will be close to the mark, Revenue Commissioner Roper said today in his annual report.

Payments of the first two installments, March 15 and June 15, brought into the treasury a total of $2,600,783,000. Mr. Roper said, while reports already in hand of the third installment, payable Sept. 15, fully support the bureau's estimate.

Commissioner Roper said that the tobacco industry had developed into one of the greatest sources of federal revenue, the total receipts from this source alone for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, being $206,000,000, an increase of $45,800,000 over those of the preceding year.

An enormous increase in the number of cigarettes in the market was shown by the reports, the total for the last fiscal year being approximately eight times larger than in 1918. The number of cigarettes manufactured, while in the last fiscal year the manufacture of cigarettes had increased to 45,500,000,000, the number of cigarettes remained practically stationary.

The effect of wartime prohibition has presented a problem which is causing serious financial embarrassment, Mr. Roper said. Holders of heavy stocks of liquor in bond were forced, under provisions of the last revenue act, to pay an additional tax Sept. 15, the law closing the saloons for the period of the year has left those interests with their property and without means for obtaining money to make the payments, he said.

The report revealed a menace in illicit trade in drugs between this country and Canada and Mexico. Expenditures of the bureau during the last fiscal year, Mr. Roper said, were $106,277,000, an increase of $12,063,214 over the previous fiscal year.

The prize for the best costume was given to Miss Marion Fletcher and John Hendrickson. Garnett McVicar and Mark Cullen managed to secure consolation prizes.

MEXICO REFUSED TO HEAR WITNESSES, JENKINS WRITES

[By Associated Press.]
Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 5.—"I am now in prison, because I refuse to give bail for one cent, as I will not even compromise with them under any circumstances," W. O. Jenkins, the American consular agent at Puebla, Mexico, declares in a letter received today by Editor Edgerton, Lebanon, Tenn., who was captain of the Vanderbilt football team when Jenkins played tackle.

Writing in the Puebla penitentiary, Jenkins said: "I regret very much the great notoriety that has been given to my hard luck in being carried away by some bandits who live near here, but it has been unavoidable, although the incident would have been forgotten if the authorities had not tried to cover up the criminal responsibility in allowing this city to be unguarded, by charging me with my own abduction. So they have taken every means possible to get certain evidence to cover up their absurd pretensions."

"I have never in all my life seen such a farce as they are carrying out here, for I have been condemned without being allowed to present a single witness in my behalf, though I had them ready and even present before the courts, but was told that they were too busy to hear them. At the present moment (November 21) the secretaries of the Mexican city are here taking this testimony, that it may be presented to the state department inasmuch as the courts refuse to accept it."

FISHER'S COW TAKES HONORS AT BIG SALE

Heartily endorsement of the proposal to build a stock sale pavilion at the fair grounds here was voiced today by Joseph Fisher, local Holstein breeder, upon his return from Fond du Lac, where he attended the sale held in the mammoth new $25,000 stock pavilion there Tuesday and Wednesday.

The only Rock county man with a consignment of Holsteins entered, Mr. Fisher won him 10 honors at the sale, his pure bred "Kordyke Bess" selling for $775, the top price. "Countess Bessie Segre" brought Mr. Fisher $455, the second highest price. The former cow is a granddaughter of "King of the Pontiac" and "Da. Kol 3d's Butter Boy."

That the complete success of the sale is due to the enterprise of Fond du Lac breeders in constructing the large pavilion was the opinion of Mr. Fisher. Buyers from all parts of the state and western Canada contributed to the sale included such well known state breeders as Williams Estate, Fond du Lac; Pleasant Hill Farm, Co. Waukesha; Werner Tashler, Mt. Vernon; and M. C. Broughton, Marinette. Mr. Fisher had 18 head entered.

What Is Ragtime?

The famous author and writer, Guy de Maupassant, says: "It is the double harmony of tune."
G. A. Shaw says: "Ragtime is to music what cream is to milk." Regardless of what may be the exact and proper definition, the fact remains that ragtime is the most popular music in the world today—the kind that makes the heart throb and the blood tingle—that makes the feet shuffle and the mouth pucker—that makes you forget your troubles and worries and feel at peace with the entire universe.

That is the Kind of Music We Teach to any person anywhere, easily, quickly and thoroughly, regardless of whether you are now a piano player and read music, or whether you don't know one note from another.

Chicago Review.
Chicago, Dec. 5.—Fairly liberal receipts and a limited demand gave a heavy undertone to the corn market today and prices were generally low. There was a pronounced drop shortly after the opening on rather free selling. Both settlement prices and futures prices, which ranged from unchanged to half cent lower, with December $1.33 1/2 and May $1.33 1/2 to $1.33 3/4, were followed by declines. On the dip May touched $1.32.
Oats followed the same general line, but within narrower limits. After opening 1/4 cent lower to 1/2 cent higher, with December $1.33 1/2 and May $1.33 1/2 to $1.33 3/4, there was a gradual decrease.
Lower live hog prices were reflected in a decrease in provision values. Opening prices were from 6 to 50c lower, pork registering the greatest decline.
Later, resting orders checked the decline, and shorts covering general and specific orders. The close was unsettled, 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 net lower, with December $1.33 1/2 and May $1.33 1/2 to $1.33 3/4.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of 18 and have a lonely life. My father objects to my going with a young man. My father has a peculiar disposition. I see other girls go out with fellows and it makes me feel very badly to think I can't. My mother doesn't object. I am almost always home, but when I do go into company I feel very strange.

DODRA ELACE.
Your father is wrong in refusing you to have the company of young men. Since your mother does not object, it would be all right if it can be arranged without hurting your father, for you to go out occasionally with a young man. A girl of 18 is old enough.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 17 and a junior in high school. I have two boy friends whom I like very much. They both treat me kindly and one is more gentlemanly than the other. They both tell me they love me. I like both very much. When I go with one the other gets jealous. I cannot decide which one to like best. Do you think I should like and go with both or only one? Is it right to allow them to kiss me?

BILLY.
It is fortunate that you like both young men. I like both very much. I should continue to go with both. You are too young to think seriously of one.

Do not kiss either, since you are not in love.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 18 years old and am in love with a young man two years my senior. I have known this young man for seven years and we have always been good friends.

On several occasions he told me he like me more than his mother, but he could never love anybody. The young man is going away for about two years and has asked me to wait. I cannot give him up and do not know what to do. Please advise me.

Government Saves Money By Buying Back Own Bonds

Washington, Dec. 5.—The government has saved a total of $45,774,973 in the purchase of its own bonds at market quotations, according to treasury figures. Since the bond purchase fund became operative the government has bought back $973,080,000 of its own bonds, which cost only $907,935,000, because the market prices ranged from 1 to 8 points below par.

Discussing the treasury's purchases of bonds, Secretary Chase said changed financial conditions due to economic dislocation attendant upon "the ending of the war" had forced many large corporations to liquidate their holdings of Liberty bonds. These same changes also forced thousands of the smaller bond owners to dispose of their purchases, but the bulk of the bonds bought were of large denomination.

Some Elementary Physiology.

This is physiology—not plausibility. Physiology is not always so simple and pleasant as plausibility, but it is true.

Massage of the stomach, even when prolonged and done by an expert, has practically no influence on the passage of food from the stomach. More physiology based on careful X-ray studies.

The great metabolist, Von Noorden, had one arm of an obese patient massaged by an expert for six weeks. At the end of that time the fat massaged arm had increased nearly three-fourths of an inch in circumference, whereas the other arm, which had not been massaged, remained the same as before.

These foods are known to decrease acidity, not of the stomach but of the blood and tissues. (It is more accurate to say the foods increase alkalinity, for blood and tissues never become acid in life.) Potatoes, oranges, carrots, beans, peas, bananas, cabbage, celery, lettuce, peaches, lemons, prunes, raisins, muskmelon, milk, cauliflower, apples, almonds, beets, dried currants.

These foods are known to increase acidity (or more correctly diminish alkalinity) of the blood and tissues: Corn, sweet or dried; crackers, eggs (especially egg yolk), fish, beef, chicken, pork, veal, ell, venison, oatmeal, peanuts, the whole grains or cereals in general.

Plums, prunes and cranberries, although yielding a base (alkaline) residue, increase acid formation by reason of the benzoic acid they contain. Fruits in general give increased alkalinity (decreased acidity), and this applies particularly to oranges, lemons, grapefruit and other tart fruit acids which misguided persons often eschew under the direction of some seventh son.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Is there an artery just above the heart? Between there and the stomach? After strenuous exercise a beating just like the pulse only stronger can be felt there. Is this a normal condition? (Mary Stuart.)

ANSWER—It is the aorta, the great artery, responding normally and nobly to the stimulus. In persons who are a trifle skinnier, or flabby of muscle, or emaciated, or nervous or irritable, the discovery of the aorta is a mournful epoch, but we all have "em" and they are perfectly harmless. The first one I ever discovered was in my first patient, and came near operating on the poor fellow for it. However, on further investigation, I found that palpable aorta was epidemic among my clients, and I decided not to cut the thing out.

USE MARSHALL'S BEST FLOUR "NO OTHER LIKE IT"

Hello, everybody!

You know that old saying, "The cat came back?"

Well, Miss Individuality isn't a "cat" by any means. Folks who know me best say the nicest things about me. But I've come back again—like the cat in the story.

I'm back because I want to give you a message to remember me by, always. I've told you about the best Flour in the world—MARSHALL'S BEST Flour—and now I'm going to tell you how to make the most delicious White Bread out of it. Here's my own recipe:

To Make White Bread

Sift about three and a half pounds of MARSHALL'S BEST Flour. Add two teaspoons of salt. Mix thoroughly. Dissolve two cakes compressed yeast in one pint of lukewarm water. See that the water isn't hot. Pour the water and yeast over the flour, and make a moderately stiff dough. Knead thoroughly and set in a warm place to rise. When well risen mould into loaves. Let them rise, and then bake.

PLEASE NOTE—The recipe calls for MARSHALL'S BEST Flour. Of course, you can make bread from almost any old flour, but not the delicious White Bread I'm telling you about. And you must be careful to follow the recipe in every detail, too. But if you do as I say, you'll get the finest, whitest, sweetest White Bread you ever tasted. Try it. Good-bye!

IOWA HUNTERS ASK TO KILL WOLVES IN VICINITY OF CITY

From McGregor, Ia., comes a request for information in regard to the number of wolves around Janesville. E. L. McDowell and his hunting partner from that locality declare they will bring their light artillery to the city to assist in putting the marauders asleep, if they can make it a paying proposition.

McDowell in a letter to Mayor T. E. Welsh says: "Learning of wolves doing damage near your city now, I would like to get in touch with some of the farmers near where the damage is being done as I do quite a bit of wolf hunting and my partner and I will come down if there are plenty of wolves and the bounty is large enough to make it an object. Would be very thankful if you could help me out in this matter."

The county board recently boosted the bounty on wolves from $10 to $25. The state bounty is also $25.

"I hardly think there are enough wolves in the vicinity to pay these men for their trouble in coming," said Mayor Welsh. "Farmers in the districts infested should be able to kill the beasts."

ALASKAN PIONEER VISITS SISTER HERE

Morris Hawkins, western pioneer and a veteran of three journeys into Alaska, is in Janesville this week visiting his sister, Mrs. C. A. Barnes, 1601 Linden avenue. His present home is in Portland, Ore.

He has led an interesting life of exploration full of all the thrills of the early days of the country. He made his first trip to Alaska in 1897.

He was one of the pioneers to cross the great mountains to Bennett, by Indian trail, and thence by self-made boat down the Yukon river, a distance of 600 miles, to the site of Dawson city where he was interested in gold mining. Dog teams were used to travel through the country. The lowest temperature he experienced was 75 degrees below zero.

On one of his trips he went as far north as Pt. Barrow on the Arctic coast, leaving the territory at St. Michel and going by steamer across the Behring sea and down the Pacific to Seattle, Wash.

R. C. Membership Roll in Branch Chapter Increased

In the recent Red Cross drive for memberships in the Johnstown-Rock Prairie branch in which Mrs. W. B. Austin acted as campaign manager, only 225 were reported by the Gazette in the final report. Mrs. Austin reports that 67 additional members were secured, making a total of 292 for that branch.

There are still knitted garments and yarn belonging to the Rock County chapter in the hands of the knitters. It is desirable that these garments should be finished as soon as possible and returned to the chapter office in the postoffice building, together with the surplus yarn.

Spread Troco on Thick

No need to practice disagreeable economy when you use Troco. Use plenty. It is a luxury, but one which will save you 25 to 40 cents on every pound you buy.

But this saving would mean nothing if Troco were not delicious, appetizing—and nourishing, too. Troco combines the pure nut fat of the coconut, the great food of the Tropics, with pasteurized milk, Nature's perfect food.

What could be more dainty and tempting?

Troco is made by a special process which insures a perfect and standardized quality. It is labeled "olcomargarine" because of old laws passed before this nut-made food was invented. But it contains no animal oil—nothing but pure vegetable fats and pasteurized milk. Law also denies us the right to color in churning. If you disapprove of such discrimination, write your congressman about it.

Order by Name from Your Dealer

Troco is churned and shipped daily, on ice. If your dealer will order frequently, and will keep his stock on ice, it will reach your table just as fresh and sweet as when it left the churn. If you have trouble in securing it in perfect condition, write direct to the Troco Nut Butter Company, Chicago.

The Troco Recipe Book, a practical little volume, prepared by Ida C. Bailey Allen, gladly sent free on request. Address Troco Nut Butter Co., 30 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, and mention your dealer's name. (For Sale by All Dealers)

A Reminiscence of the

"Yes, I simply cannot stay here," —hor eyes wandering toward the cabin.

I took the lead on the return, finding the path easy enough to follow in the full light of day. The sinking moonlight, however, had the knowledge that she actually meant it—only served to draw me closer, to strengthen my determination not to desert. Her face was ever before me as I advanced—a bravely pathetic face, wonderfully womanly in its features, appealing to every impulse of my manhood. I admit that the man who said that it had been largely love of adventure, the rash recklessness of youth which had brought me here. But this was no inspiration no longer. I had begun to realize that something deeper, more worthy, now held me to the task. What this was I made no attempt to analyze—indeed, I did not dare—but, nevertheless, the mere conception of deserting her in the midst of this wilderness was to me utterly repugnant for a moment.
No not that whatever happened it would never be that.

The last few rods of our journey lay through thick brush, and hence the spreading branches of interlacing trees. Suddenly I emerged upon the bank of the creek, with the rude log wharf before me.
I stopped and gazed, staring at the water—nothing else greeted my eyes; both banks were gone.
This unexpected discovery came to me like a blow; the very breath seemed to desert my lungs, as I stared down at the vacant stream.
We had been overgrown, tricked, and all our theories—very, very occurred were wrong. The duty we had performed to the dead had cost us our own chance to escape. Instead of being able to return, we were in the midst of enemies; and while we loitered ashore the murderers had stolen our boat and vanished, leaving us there helplessly marooned. All this was plain enough now, when it was already too late to remedy the evil. The struggling

KAISER IS NOT EXCITED OVER TRIAL BY ALLIES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, Dec. 5.—Former Emperor William of Germany does not believe he will be brought to trial by the allies, or if tried, that his future will be affected in any way, says the Berlin correspondent of the Daily Mail. Various friendly sources have recently suggested that he surrender to the allies, offering to give the court all information in his power, the correspondent says, but he appears too lethargic to take any steps or even concentrate his mind upon the preparation of notes.

Next to saving wood, the erstwhile monarch's main interest seems to be the various campaigns waged in Russia which he follows with the aid of large beflagged maps and he eagerly reads all the news from that country.

"Y" BOYS VISIT IN KOHLER, IDEAL CITY, DURING CONFERENCE

(BY JAMES GAGE.)

Kohler, a small village situated about four miles from Sheboygan, is an ideal village. The population is but 400 and all of these 400 are employees of the Kohler Manufacturing company, makers of bath-room and other enamel ware. The town is built about the large factory. The Kohler company builds all the houses, which are planned by one architect and landscape gardener, and sells them to the families for $8,000 each, this amount being paid for in rent. These homes are for the married men only, and although they are all on the same order, being small and bungalow-like, the monotony is broken by having them set in circles at about 10 to 15 homes.

The village is still small, but it has been rapidly growing. The inhabitants are given the best of treatment. A new open-air theater was dedicated there on October 20, for which occasion Sousa and his famous band played. The building of the city was actually begun seven years ago, but the officials of the company had had it in mind for 20 years, ever since the factory was moved out from Sheboygan.

During the Older Boys' conference last week at Sheboygan, 12 Janesville boys, headed by their leader, A. C. Preston, were fortunate enough to stay at the summer home of the Kohlers, on Lake Michigan, coming into the town for their meals. They were invited to Kohler for their Sunday dinner. The road from Sheboygan to Kohler is paved with cement. Perhaps the first impression one gets of the village is the cleanliness of it.

Although there are many large factory buildings near it, the houses are spotlessly clean and made a beautiful impression on the boys' minds that Sunday morning, with the bright sunshine. When about a mile from the village, the factory can be seen, and then a large American flag can be seen floating on the top of a large building. This is the American club, the home of the unmarried men of the city. In this place, meals are made. They are taken in, home-like and country-like, and in a few weeks they are different men. Some come with only a pair of overalls to their name, and within a few weeks they have bought new suits, because of the pride they take in themselves and their village. Here they are taught to be Americans. Foreigners are taken in and taught the English language. There is a night school for the men and women and a proper school for the children. The American club is a beautiful building containing bedrooms. By having double rooms, 140 men are accommodated. Here they are given their

Common-Sense for Corns, "Gets-It"

The Great Painless Corn Loosener. Simple as A. B. C.—Never Fails.

If you have ever tried to get rid of a corn by pulling up your toe with bandages, or by using salve that made your toe red and almost raw, or tried to draw your corn out with a knife, there will be a surprise waiting for you when you use "Gets-It." Imagine peeling your corn out as easily and painlessly as you peel a banana skin. Well, that is what happens when you use "Gets-It." There is nothing else that will give you this same result. Millions of folks have had the same blessed experience. Why putter and suffer, limp, and spoil a good time for yourself and your friends, or your peace of mind while trying to attend to business? Use "Gets-It," the simple common sense way.

Coercion Against Germans Is Urged in Paris Papers

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Paris, Dec. 5.—Coercion is the only argument likely to make an impression upon the Germans and induce them to sign the protocol of the peace treaty, according to today's newspapers. It is said this conclusion was reached at the secret session of the council of five yesterday, at which Marshal Foch was present.

It is reported that the marshal undertook to execute the plan he drafted last June, the mere threat of which brought German plenipotentiaries to Versailles.

Where Can I Find Relief From Itching, Terrifying Eczema?

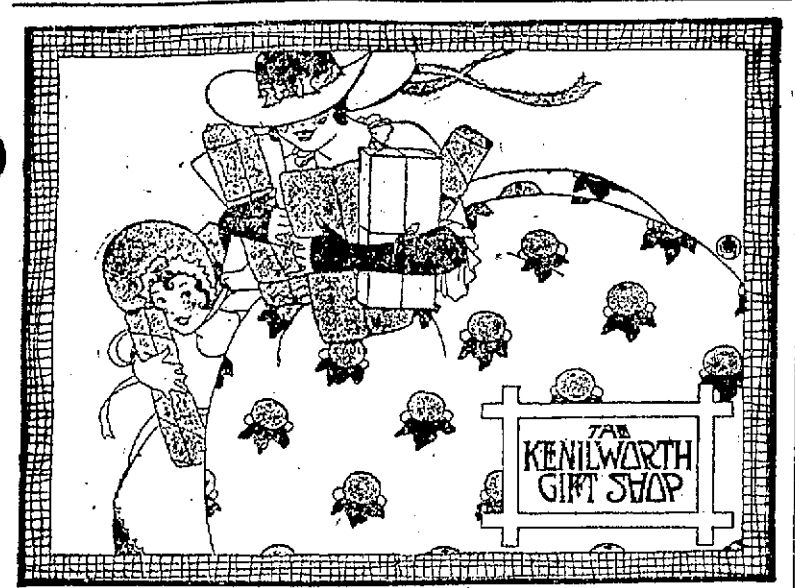

Question on Lips of Afflicted. There is a harrassing discomfort caused by Eczema that almost becomes a torture. The itching is almost unbearable, and the skin seems on fire with the burning irritation. A cure from local applications of salves and ointments is impossible, because such treatment can only allay the pain temporarily. The disease can only be reached by going deep down to its source, which is in the blood, the disease being caused by an infection which breaks out through the skin. That is why the most satisfactory treatment for all so-called skin diseases is S. S. S., which acts by cleansing the blood. Get a bottle to-day, and you will see results from the right treatment. Medical advice free. Address Medical Director, 48 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

The Modern way to keep the house clean—a child can run a Hoover. The combination of the principles of suction and sweeping employed results in the beating process. The floor covering is lifted slightly from the floor, where the soft bristles force buried dust and dirt to the surface, and powerful suction removes it. Thorough cleanliness results. Colors are revealed and the carpet looks almost like new. The Nap is not removed from the carpet, as often occurs with cleaners of unnecessary suction power. And you may purchase the Hoover on the partial payment plan—it may be paid for while in use. Come in and let us demonstrate how the Hoover beats—as it sweeps—as it cleans.

A large, ornate, dark-colored cabinet or wardrobe with multiple doors and drawers, featuring decorative carvings and a central panel. The image is a high-contrast, black and white illustration, possibly a woodcut or engraving. The cabinet has a tall, rectangular body with a central panel that appears to have a decorative or possibly inscribed surface. On either side of the central panel are smaller doors or drawers, each adorned with a circular motif containing a cross-like design. The top of the cabinet is slightly arched, and the base is supported by four sturdy, tapered legs. The overall style is characteristic of 18th or 19th-century furniture design.
